

Ahsanullah University of Science & Technology

Department of Computer Science & Engineering

Course No : CSE 1200
Course Title : SOFTWARE DEVELOPMENT-I
Project Name : THE LAST JOURNEY

Date of Submission : 09/04/2022

Submitted To : Mohammad Marufur Rahman

Mohammad Faisal Tareq

Submitted by-

1. Name- ANIK KUMAR SANNYASHI
ID- 20210104077

2. Name- TANVIR AHMED
ID-20210104078

3. Name- Sadia Islam
ID-20210104097

1.Objective-

Here, our goal is to make a 2D game using C++ with iGraphics to develop our skills as well as creating teamwork.

2.Introduction-

Our game “The Last Journey” is a destination based game where Human existence is in danger as the world is uninhabitable for living and they began their journey with the existing people for a new planet in a spaceship. they found their last hope of life, a new destination, Kepler 452b after facing so many obstacles.

3.Process-

i) Process for background and rendering-

We have used iShowBMP function to create our background as well as rendering. For rendering we also used loops to create dynamic effect (render) on background.

ii) For Game Materials-

For this case we used iShowBMP2 to make a png view of the pictures.

iii) For Music-

We used PlaySound () function for adding music in our project.

iv) Others-

We used iDraw, iKeyboard, iMouse, iSetTimer and User Defined functions for our own benefits as well as good code design.

4.Difficulty Faced-

We've faced many difficulties like-

- Missile launching
- Collision
- Play/Pause
- Background Rendering

5.Future Plan-

- i) Adding checkpoints
- ii) Different sound effects
- iii) Dynamic Spaceship movement
- iv) Hall of fame (Who finished the game)
- v) Harder levels (More obstacles, Speed)
- vi) Graphical development

6.Conclusion-

The game is very enjoyable because it is a target based game. It has a very unique story with exciting phases that will make it hard to get to the destination. Basically this game is for teenage kids who are likely to love story mode games. But in the end, this game will attract everyone for it is unique story and good moral learning (Spoiler).